LADIES' GOODS.

WANTED.

Major R. R. Wright Gives His Views Bases Her Petition on the Allegation Before the Industrial Commission-

Exercise of Elective Franchise.

The condition of the colored people in the south was the subject for discussion before the industrial commission yesterday afternoon. Major R. R. Wright, a colored man who served in the Spanish war, and is president of the industrial college located near Savannah, Ga., appeared and testified concerning the needs of his people. The one thing he advocated was educational assistance as a means of helping the colored educational fund to the colored schools, and | W. Smith of Bridgeport as receiver. could not be expected to do more. But advocated national aid for southern schools stations in the south for the special assistance of colored farmers

The Colored People Advancing.

Despite the natural difficulties, Mr. Wright contended that the colored people are advancing, and he asserted that the charge that the colored man is a burden to his white neighbor is not true. He showed that there are now over a million acres of farm land owned by negroes in Georgia, and said that, including this land, the negroes of the state pay taxes upon $11,000,-000 worth of property. He stated that as a rule the successful negroes were not the ex-slaves, but he expressed the opinion that if the government had given the colored men a mule and forty acres of land instead of conferring the ballot upon them it would have been for the benefit of all.

The Ballot and the Colored Man. Asked for his opinion concerning the effect of the disfranchisement of the negro plied that individually he thought it a mistake to take the ballot from any one at this late day, but he added that he did not believe that the ballot had been of any especial benefit to the colored man. In reply to Mr. Kennedy Mr. Wright said that the requirement of an educational qualification for voting would be a stimulus to secure this qualification. "Very few colored people in the south," he said, "take any interest in politics, and, except in the cities, they have come to the conclusion that they have no business with politics.' Need of School Facilities.

An attempt is made to have the schools in Georgia open during five months in the year, he said, but they do not actually succeed in having them more than three months. In the entire state of Georgia, with 137 countles, he said, there may be twelve school hours outside of the cities. Schools are conducted in churches and in places that can be put up readily, such as log shantles. He was satisfied that young colored men of the south who have been educated work harder than the uneducated,

That She Was an Adopted Danghter A dispatch from Hartford, Conn., says that an action was begun in the United States circuit court there yesferday by Mrs. Helen Potts Hall of New York for the recovery of her alleged share in the millions of the late George F. Gilman of Bridgeport. Mrs. Hall declares that she is the adopted daughter of Mr. Gilman, and brings her action through her next friend, her brother, Frank G. Potts, against the people to help themselves. He said the Bridgeport Trust Company as administrastate of Georgia devotes one-third of its tor of the Gilman estate and against Geo.

The bill of complaint, which contains that was not enough, and Major Wright seventeen counts, declares that Mr. Gilman was engaged in the tea business in and also separate agricultural experiment | copartnership with George H. Hartford, and that they had about 200 stores in the United States. This part of the complaint is interesting because it has been understood that the Bridgeport Trust Company as administrator takes the po-sition that Mr. Hartford was manager only and not a part owner in the tea busi After estimating the value of the estate at more than $1,500,000, the complaint says the property came into Mrs. Hall's possession at the time of Gilman's death, and there remained until she was foreibly custed by the defendants. For several years prior to Mr. Gilman's death, continues the complainant, he, having con-ceived a strong personal regard for Mrs. Hall, adopted her as his daughter, and she became a member of his household. and resided there until his death, manag-ing the household and rendering to him the obedience of a natural daughter.

On or about November 1, 1990, it is alleged, Mr. Gilman entered into an agree-ment with Mrs. Hall that if she would upon his future prospects Mr. Wright re-plied that individually he thought it a mis-ter until his death she would then be entitled to all his property, both real and personal, as fully and to the same extent as if she were his natural daughter. The complainant claims that she has fulfilled her part of the agreement. She states further that none of the relatives lived on intimate terms with Gilman, but on the contrary they had for many years been estranged from him, and some hostile to him, and that Gilman failed to make a will and died intestate. The complainant asks for a writ of in junction perpetually enjoining the Bridge port Trust Company, as administrator of the estate, from interfering with the busi-ness conducted by the Great American Tea Company; that the Bridgeport Trust Company deliver to the complainant such as-sets as remain in its hands, in like manner as if she were the sole heir and next of kin of the deceased. A preliminary in-junction is also asked for restraining the company from further interference with the tea companies during the pending of this action. A writ of subpoena directed to the trust company commanding it to appear in court and answer to the complaint is likewise asked for.

The complainant further asks that Geo. W. Smith, the receiver, who claims to have an interest in the estate, be enjoined from maintaining the same. The writ of subpoena is made returnable to the circuit court the first Monday in May.

SURPRISE TO CUBANS. Report That President McKinley

Would Ignore Commission. A special cablegram to the New York Herald from Havana last night says: A Washington cablegram printed here today says it can be stated on unquestionable authority that President McKinley has decided not to negotiate with the commission from the constitutional convention on any basis outside the Platt amendment; also that such a commission cannot expect to gain anything definite as the result of a visit to Washington.

This message had the effect of suspending the proposed action in appointing a commission at the session today, because it was argued that an ultimatum can be answered here as well as in Washington. The debate will continue tomorrow. prominent member of the convention says that twenty-seven members of the thirty-one are unalterably opposed to the Platt amendment. The order for municipal elections which Gen. Wood promulgated a week ago and twice modified later meets strong oppo-sition from La Lucha, which thus far has been a partisan of the administration and the Platt amendment. Its opposition to the order is based on the claim of unfair discrimination against the national party.

of which La Lucha is an organ. La Patria, an influential paper, the or gan of the convention, says: "Cuba and the United States would be gainers by a change in the military governor of the island, who is responsible for the present lack of harmony between the two nations. Without passion or exaggeration it may be said that the chief obstacle to the har-monious adjustment of differences is Wood. So long as he be military governor of Cuba all the distrust and suspicion the people entertain respecting the intentions and purposes of the American government are amply corroborated and justified."

The Associated Press correspondent at Havana last night sent the following dis-patch: In the constitutional convention today Senor Juan Gualberto Gomez and Gen.
Sanguily made lond and impassioned speeches, the former against the Platt amendment and the latter in its favor. Senor Gomez said in substance that the black blood in his veins made him opposed black blood in his veins made him opposed to the Americans, intimating that their treatment of his race stamped them as unfriendly to the negro. "I would rather be under the sovereignty of Spain," he exclaimed, "than under that of the United States. The Platt amendment endangers the independence of Cuba. It means the predominance of American influence. I would either die of grief or leave the country should it be accepted."

Gen. Sangully declared that the amendment in no way endangered the independ-

ment in no way endangered the independ-ence of Cuba, but really provided guarantees that it would be maintained,
